In the case of George Mantz, charged with shooting Edward C. Blunt on the 28th of October, argued last week before Chief Justice Bingham and Justices Hagner and James on petition of habeas corpus for the purpose of admission to bail, Justice Hagner delivered the opinion of the Court in General Term this morning, dismissing the writ and remanding the petitioner to the Police Court. The judge recited the refusal of the application for admission to bail for a further hearing in the Police Court and said it was a very important question as to whether the court had such right. The question was not the right to hold for bail for trial, but for a further hearing, and if the petitioner had this right and it was denied it was a hardship. On the other hand, if the Police Court had no power, but did hold to bail, the action on the recognizance could not be maintained. At common law no such power existed as taking bail for a hearing in a case not finally triable in that court. He cited a case in eighth Blatchford and the act of 1789 and the act establishing the Police Court, and looking over the law, he said, they found that no such authority was given as was contended for, and, all matters considered in the light of authorities in similar cases, they did not think that the Police Court erred in declining to take Mantz was thereupon taken in custody. This decision virtually locks up all persons charged with offenses triable at the Criminal Court from the time of arrest to the time of holding them for the grand jury or discharging them in the Police Court. RELEASED ON $5,000 BAIL. Mantz was returned to the Police Court, in charge of a deputy marshal, and the case was called to Judge Miller's attention by Mr. Williams. As his client did not care to return to jail and await the recovery of Mr. Blunt Mr. Williams said he would waive an examination. The case was sent to the grand jury and bail in the sum of $5,000 was furnished, Jeremiah Jewell going on the bond. WASHINGTON VS. BALTIMORE. Chess Players From the Capital Played a Match with Maryland Champions. As announced in THE STAR last week the team match between the chess experts of the capital and Baltimore took place in the latter city Saturday evening at the rooms of the Baltimore chess association. Washington's players were Messrs. Frech, Braid, O'Farrell, Knight, est in the "kingly game" now overspreading the world. ing for Drinks.

Hanna, Gwyer and Gabrill, captained by the latter, while Mr. Schofield, Baltimore's captain, led Messrs. Hughes, Dallam, Melamet. Hinrichs, Wieman and Koch to the fray. Play began promptly at 7 p.m., continuing till 10:15, with a short intermission for refreshments, and unfinished games were adjudicated by the two captains and the umpire, Mr. Pollock, the celebrated Irish champion, who won the brilliancy prize over all competitors at the international chess congress in New York A MODERN JACK SHEPPARD. this year. Two games were played by each pair of players except in several cases where only one could be completed in time. The final score, 5½ to 5½, was much applauded. Games were won for Washington by Messrs. Frech, O'Farrell, Knight, Grabill and Hanna and lost by Messrs. Braid, O'Farrell, Knight, Grabill and Gwyen, Mr. Frech also drawing a game. Before leaving for home Mr. Grabill, text the Weshington team themselves the score. game. Before leaving for home Mr. Grabill, for the Washington team, thanked the Baltimoreans for their hospitable reception and invited them to play a return match at their early convenience. Mr. Torch, president of the B.C.A., in reply stated that they would visit Washington before the holidays.

It is proposed to make the chess match between the two cities a regular semi-annual occasion, and this activity will doubtless go far toward encouraging here the revival of interest in the "kingly game" now overspreading

CARE OF THE NEWS BOYS.

jects to Organizing a New Society. A committee composed of Mrs. Wm. O. Cunningham, Mrs. L. E. Talbott, Mrs. Ogden Wycoff, Mrs. Mary Ferry, Prof. Gallaudet and Dr. T. S. Childs, representing the News Boys' home, called upon the Commissioners this merning to protest against the organization of the national news boys' association. Dr. Childs was the first to speak. He called attention to the proposed new organization and how it conflicted with the present association. Prof. Gallaudet followed with a history of the present organization.

Commissioner Douglass said that he thought these charitable institutions should be consolidated; that there were already too many, and that sooner or later Congress would put them all under one head.

account of the national organization, its objects and what it proposed to do in this city. He read the objects of the association, which the ladies present all said were the same as those of their organization. Many of these objects of their organization. Many of these objects had been carried out, they said, but some had not for the want of funds. Commissioner Hine then made a few remarks explaining what he thought the objects of the new organization to be. He said he did not think it would interfere with the local association, but would promote generally the good work. It was decided to appoint a committee to confer with one of the committees of the national organization and then put their case in writing and submit it to the Commissioners. POLICEMAN AND PRISONER.

The Circumstances Which Caused the Suspension of Officer Caverly.

Policeman Caverly of the first precinct has been suspended from the police force on a charge of intoxication. The officer has not been on the force many months. Shortly after he was appointed he went on a visit to Boston and returned with a wife. He has never been in any trouble until Saturday night. Near the corner of 11th and E streets, while he was on his way to the police station about 9 o'clock, he arrested a young man named William T. Bailey for no apparent cause. The officer was in a Caverly attempted to strike him. The officer and prisoner soon reached the station and there the officer renewed his riotous conduct and struck Bailey several times.

Lieut, Amiss heard the disturbance, and when he entered the office he saw at a glance that Caverly was in a condition that rendered him unfit for duty. The lieutenant relieved the officer of his equipments and suspended him from duty. The case will probably be heard before the trial board next . Wednesday. POLICEMAN CAVERLY DENIES the charge against him and claims that the whole affair is the result of an unfriendly feeling Waple, the grocer, has against him about a grocery bill. He denies most emphatically that he was intoxicated or that he had been drinking.

The suspension on the part of the heutenant was today revoked and the officer returned to duty. Charges were made out against the officer today. The charges accuse him of appearing to using unnecessary violence toward a prisoner. Wm. Bailey, the young man whom the officer arrested, forfeited $5 collateral in the Police Court today, which makes it appear as though the arrest on the part of the officer was justi-

Joe Buck has not yet been captured, although the officers thought several times that they were on his track. Buck, while awaiting the action of the court, was regarded by the people in the jail as inexperienced in crime, and he played his part so well that he deceived even the older criminals in the prison. Not one of them doubted but that he was as young in crime as in years, and he was accordingly treated more like a Sunday school boy than a professional thief. Since his escape opinions have changed and all now believe that he was one of the cleverest rogues that ever occupied a cell in the District him anything he desired. Young Buck complained that the time passed very slowly and be company for him. His friend of course willingly consented to make the purchase and Buck told him what kind of a timepiece to purchase. It was an exceedingly cheap one, but was of a make that had exceptionally strong springs. It was purchased and it was not many days before the escape was effected. The clock had stopped. The spring had disappeared and it appears that Buck had spent his spare time, for he had plenty of it, making a same This was the instrument he used with saw. This was the instrument he used with such good effect in cutting his way out of jail. IN CINCINNATL Last week it was thought that Buck was in the city, but the police received word from Cincinnati that a young man answering his description had registered at the Grand hotel there. He took his room key to a locksmith to pected something wrong and notified the police. Detectives went to the hotel and arrested the young man and a companion who figured in the "Foggy Bottom" shooting affray a week ago, was in the Police Court this charged. He registered there as John Brown morning and was given the extent of the law for carrying a pistol—$50 or 90 days—and he was fined $20 or 90 days for disorderly conduct.

Poindexter and was released on the recommendation of a man named Purcell. The picture, the Cincinnati officers thought, was a likeness of the man whom they had arrested and discharged from custody. IS IT NEWMAN.

The description given of Purcell, Buck's Cincinnati friend, tallies exactly with that of Newman, alias St. Clair, alias Noble, alias De Hughes, who recently got out of jail here by pretending to be the heir to a fortune in California.

It is thought that the man figuring as "Reddy" Foster, mentioned in Cincinnati in connection with these two, is the man who assisted in the escape of Buck and Sewell. Some are of the opinion, however, that Foster is one of Newman's friends from Philadelphia or New York

In the Court in General Term today Chief Justice Bingham rendered the opinion in the case of Pilling against the District of Columbia making an injunction against the sale of certain property perpetual. W. H. Slater purcertain property perpetual. W. H. Slater purchased certain property at a tax sale in 1885 and transferred it to Pilling, and after the deed had been given the District claimed that other taxes were due and advertised and sold it therefor. Mr. Pilling claimed that the District was estopped from selling for taxes antidating the purchase by him.

Badly Beaten by Two Negro Roughs Whom he Had Arrested.

Policeman James E. Reilly of the second precinct station was seriously assaulted Saturday evening, and was so badly injured that he came near losing his life. He had been on duty during the afternoon, and was relieved at 6 o'clock. He left the station, which is on 5th between M and N streets, and started for his home, No. 224 R street. When he reached B street it was so dark that he could hardly see any object much further than across the street. When he reached the corner of 3d street, not far from his home, he heard a noise ahead of him, and found that it proceeded from two fighting negroes. The officer surprised the fighters and placed them under arrest. They quietly submitted, and started with the officer to the station, but had walked but a short distance when they turned upon him. Both acter

THREW THE OFFICER TO THE PAVEMENT. Before he could regain his feet his head was hammered against the curb stone and he was left unconscious in the gutter.

He remained there some minutes before he regained consciousness and then he found him-self too weak to get up without assistance and gutter.

"Go to -- you -- of a --," was what the negro said.

Finally some citizens went to his assistance and took him to his home, where he was attended by Police Surgeon Henderson. The officer has improved since Saturday night and was able to be out today.

About 11:15 yesterday morning Mrs. J. B. Driver of No. 503 East Capitol street was accidentally knocked down by a team of horses attached to a hack owned by Thos. E. Smith. She received a slight scalp wound. Dr. E. A. Miller rendered medical aid.

Yesterday afternoon a man about thirty-one years of age, named Anthony Messmer, who lives at the corner of 6th and D streets southeast, was taken suddenly ill at the corner of 2d and C streets southeast. He was conveyed to Providence hespital.
